

Illness to wellness conference:

Preventing suicide and supporting mental health wellbeing in theatre teams

Friday 11 October 2019
St John's College, Oxford

Surgery is a pressure packed profession which has led to the development of serious psychological and emotional conditions.

Join us in Oxford on Friday 11 October to hear expert speakers discuss how to avoid burnout, how to support doctors' wellbeing and how to respond to adverse outcomes.

The day, hosted by Andrew Miles, RCS South Central Regional Director, will offer you the opportunity to learn:

- How medical professionals can best support their teams and themselves.
- How to build resilience.
- The role of the RCS and other organisations working to support surgeons and theatre teams.

Event CPD accredited.

Featuring:

- Clare Gerada – Medical Director of NHS Practitioner Health Programme.
- Professor Neil Mortensen – RCS Vice President.
- Professor Kevin Turner – Consultant Urologist.
- Tom Rapanakis – Head of Wellbeing Services, BMA.

Find out more details on the RCS event webpage.

Friday 11 October 2019

St John's College
St Giles,
Oxford OX1 3JP

To confirm your place book now:

Online: <https://bit.ly/32pwFEX>

E: rcsevents@rcseng.ac.uk

P: 0207 869 6219

(Monday-Friday 9am - 5pm)

www.rcseng.ac.uk